Hello

Welcome to the first edition of our newsletter which we hope will provide you with a valuable source of product information, industry news and research articles in the future.

We are still celebrating our recent win at the Nursery & Garden Industry Queensland Awards and in this issue we also say farewell to a valued member of the Birdwood family as Miles Porteous leaves the industry to pursue other avenues.

We'd like to take the opportunity to wish you and your family a very merry Christmas and a very successful 2011 and we look forward to speaking to you in the New Year.

Warm regards,
Rory Cullinan
General Manager

Wishing Miles all the best

After 19 years with Birdwood Nursery our Production Manager, Miles Porteous is leaving us to pursue new opportunities in a different field. His last day at Birdwood Nursery will be 24 December 2010.

Miles has made an immense contribution to Birdwood Nursery over the years and we wish him tremendous success in his future endeavours. We are very excited about the high calibre of candidates we are currently interviewing for the production role and look forward to introducing you to our new Production Manager by mid-January.

In the interim, should have any enquiries we can assist you with please don't hesitate to contact one of the following team members:

- General Manager: Rory Cullinan

Celebrating a hat trick of awards

We are still celebrating taking home three awards at the prestigious 2011 Nursery and Garden Industry Queensland Awards held in Brisbane last month, including the highly coveted Best Large Production Nursery.

This is the second year running we've won the major gong and this year we were delighted to also add the Environmental and Marketing Awards to our collection.

We are very proud to be recognised within our industry across these various categories and believe our dedication to delivering quality product, on time whilst maintaining our environmental responsibility is reflected in these awards.

We look forward to representing Queensland in the national awards in April next year and would like to thank our team for their commitment to delivering excellence across the business. We really couldn't have achieved this without them.
